

Northern California Botanists present

RESEARCH AND CONSERVATION OF NORTHERN CALIFORNIA'S VEGETATION COMMUNITIES

14 - 15 January 2019

California State University Chico – Bell Memorial Union Auditorium

Includes a Dedicated Poster Session on Tuesday Morning and Optional
Workshops on 16 January

Symposium sessions include:

VEGETATION MAPPING & MONITORING
IMPORTANCE OF HERBARIA
CONSERVING CRYPTIC SPECIES
LIGHTNING TALKS

NATIVE PLANT CONSERVATION
FIRE AND VEGETATION
NOW THE GOOD NEWS
NEW DISCOVERIES

KEYNOTE SPEAKER – Todd Keeler-Wolf, Department of Fish and Wildlife
Title: “Becoming a Naturalist and Ecologist in Northern California”

Todd will discuss how landscapes he has gotten to know over the years have deepened his understanding, interest, and shifting perspectives on each and will reflect on being a landscape ecologist in a time of rapid change.

Students: registration and travel stipends available – applications due 2 Dec. 2018

For a detailed program, registration, and stipend information, go to: www.norcalbotanists.org

$50 students - $185 members of NCB - $215 non-members of NCB